[female voice] Some infections are becoming harder to treat with common antibiotics. You may or may not show symptoms and you could pass the infection on to others.

[Strong voice] Cuts and scrapes are an open house to infection.

Scrapes are very common in active kids and can be treated at home unless large or deep. Make sure to clean cuts and scrapes with soap and warm water using a clean towel. You may need to clean the scraped area several times to remove dirt from the wound. If there are signs of infection that develop such as increasing redness, swelling, pus or soreness, see your doctor or nurse.

[female] Good treatment of small cuts and scrapes depends on good cleaning and watching for infection.
